

International Symposium

Constructing 21st Century Models of Education: Analyzing the International Implications and Challenges of The Japanese Model of Schooling

Date: Dec. 5th (Saturday), 2015, 10:00 – 14:45

Place: The University of Tokyo, Faculty of Engineering Bldg.2 #213

Pre-registration required (maximum 340 people)

Simultaneous interpreting into English is provided for ALL presentations by panelists below (English summaries will be provided for the afternoon panel discussion)

Register at: <http://www.schoolexcellence.p.u-tokyo.ac.jp/en/event/>

In the era of globalization, as educational models transcend national borders as never before, we discuss what is necessary to contribute to the international improvement of education ...

Panelists & Chairs

Christine Lee, President, The World Association of Lesson Studies, NIE, Singapore

Atsushi Matachi, Senior Advisor (Basic Education), Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA)

Ryoko Tsuneyoshi, Director of the Center for Excellence in School Education, Professor, Graduate School of Education, The University of Tokyo

Miho Taguma, Senior Policy Analyst, OECD Paris Headquarters

Hideyuki Horii, Professor, Graduate School of Engineering, The University of Tokyo, Head of i.school

Kiyomi Akita, Professor, Graduate School of Education, The University of Tokyo

Yuto Kitamura, Vice Director of the Center for Excellence in School Education, Associate Professor, Graduate School of Education, The University of Tokyo

Hosted by the Center for Excellence in School Education, Graduate School of Education, The University of Tokyo

Funded by: Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research (KAKENHI), Kiban A, No. 15H01987

"A Cross-National Research of Japanese Educational Efforts to Meet the Needs of the 21st Century and the Construction of International Models." (Head: R. Tsuneyoshi)